

Oi blokes! Huey Crowley is an expert on Punk subculture- you may have seen his Ted Talk on how he has changed the Punk genre into what it has become today. Dubbed the "Punk Godfather" by Johnny Ramone, he's been to more Punk shows than anyone in NYC (over 7000 shows attended.) In 2008 he was the last man standing in a 72 hour-long mosh pit in Jersey.

Huey was at punk shows in the EARLY days (more than you can say). In addition to a vinyl collection of over 40,000 rare punk albums, Huey owns the largest collection of punk patches, guitar picks and flyers in the world. In 2004 he earned the Guinness book of World records for longest mohawk on Earth. He used to get his mohawks trimmed from the lead singer of The Clash. Now shut your little fuckin' mouth up...

- Huey Crowley

Flyer by Elise Hanson